Studio 570 would like to thank Aaron's, located at 447 River Avenue Williamsport PA, for the donation of the couch used in this evening's performance.

Studio 570 is so excited to be presenting their first production, Jonathan Tolins's Buyer and Cellar. Alex More, the main character, tells us that books, movies, TV, and thus theater is to be aspirational. Aspirational, according to the dictionary, is a "strong desire to achieve something high or great." That is exactly what Studio 570 is, a hope and dream coming to full fruition. I am so happy and touched to be here on this stage tonight for our premiere. With anything, it takes a team of players to make a show happen.

I would like to thank my dear friend and mentor, Danielle for being a sound board for ideas, and the unconditional love and support. I would also like to thank Deb Kemp, for traveling all the way to Williamsport PA, from Atlanta, GA. I'm super excited that she is here making her our first guest artist! And finally, where would we be without Nancy Reiff, a total support system, whom I'm very excited is part of this journey.

Studio 570 came out of the need for more opportunities in an ever-growing arts community, locally and nationally. Our mission is to be the bridge for emerging artists, allowing their artistic voices to be heard and helping them further their careers. Studio 570 is the launch board where artists can get their start in the professional theatrical world. I'm so honored and pleased that you chose to spend your evening with us. We hope to see you again very soon!

With much love and talent,

Jared Whitford, Artistic Director

WHO'S WHO

Jared Whitford (Alex/ Artistic Director): Jared is very happy to be returning to the local stage in the première of the new theater company he founded. Born and raised in Williamsport, Jared left town to study theater in Pittsburgh. Studio 570 will be drawing from his experiences working at theaters such as the historic Pittsburgh Playhouse, the Straz Center, and most recently PARK Productions. Past credits include; Harold Hill (The Music Man), Bill (Over Here!), Jeffery, billed as Jared (Godspell), Lollipop Guild (The Wizard of Oz, National Tour) Stan (Hairspray), and Baby John (West Side Story). Jared is excited to share his ever growing knowledge with a new, or should we say familiar, set of people. He gives many thanks to his support system, friends, family. Jared wants to dedicate this performance specially to a mentor and friend, who left this earth too early, his beloved college voice teacher Myrna. His performance tonight could not have been possible without the training and support he received from her. "Daily I look toward my peers and mentors to challenge myself to grow as an artist. Never living inside the confinement of a box of right or wrong, but instead always looking for my next inspiration for a new adventure,"

Jared Whitford, Artistic Director.

Deb Kemp (Production Assistant): Deb Kemp is a rising senior at The Walker School, in Atlanta Georgia. Deb has worked at the Straz Center as a wardrobe intern, under Jared Whitford. She has also worked at Atlanta's Lyric theater in the wardrobe department. In May she interned at the Carnes Film Festival in France. Additionally she enjoys directing, directing a ten minute play "Hanging on", and several short films. Her Stage Credit include Morticia (The Addams Family), Lady Bracknell (The Importance of Being Earnest), and Jacqueline (The Miser). Deb would like to thank her family, her school drama teacher, and her friends for their support, along with Jared Whitford for his generosity and for giving her this opportunity.

Nancy Reiff (Production Manager): Nancy, a longtime resident of Williamsport, has been involved in the theater and dance communities for over 30 years. From The Williamsport Players, Community Theatre League and The Williamsport Civic Ballet Company, she has had great opportunities to perform, sing and dance with many wonderful productions, many talented individuals, and also work behind the scenes making sure it all runs smoothly. She's excited to be working with Jared again and to have the opportunity to help build a truly special company, Studio 570 that will bring quality entertainment to the our Community. The future holds unlimited possibilities!
